38. A person shall not perform a surgical operation for the purpose of modifying the appearance of an animal by which any part of the animal's body is removed or damaged, other than for a curative purpose.

[s. 37]

Prohibited surgical operations

39. An animal which has undergone a surgical operation prohibited under the provisions of this Act shall not be-

- (a) entered for or admitted to show, exhibition or competitions; or
- (b) kept in stock for sale, offered for sale or brought.

[s. 38]

Biotechnology

40.-(1) A person shall not carry out any of the following practices unless he has applied and obtained a permit from the Minister acting on the advice of the Council-

- (a) the alteration of the genetic material of an animal in a manner which infringes the natural barriers of sexual reproduction and of recombination;
- (b) the application of biotechnological technology or the administration of substances to animals or embryos that modify genetic make up of animals.

(2) An animal or animal product which has been subjected to the practices referred to in subsection (1) shall not be produced, transported, put at another person's disposal, sold, bought, kept in stock to be sold, disposed of or introduced in Mainland Tanzania, without permission of the Director.

[s. 39]

Permit for animal experiments

41.-(1) A person shall not conduct an animal experiment without obtaining a permit from the Director.

(2) The permit shall allow animal experiments in so far as they are intended to benefit, either directly or indirectly, the health or nutrition of a human being or an animal and any other purpose deemed to be of sufficient value.

[s. 40]

Issue of permit

42.—(1) The permit referred to in section 41 shall be issued where—

- (a) the practice in question does not adversely affect the welfare of an animal; and
- (b) the practice is not in breach of ethical rules and standards prescribed by the Minister.

(2) The permit shall specify the practice for which it is required and may include any condition and restriction which the Minister may determine.

[s. 41]

Authorised persons to perform animal experiments

43. Animal experiments shall be performed by authorised persons or under the direct responsibility of the persons.

[s. 42]

Revocation of permit

44.—(1) A permit issued under section 41 may be revoked where—

- (a) the information submitted in the application is incorrect or inaccurate;
- (b) the information submitted is misleading that, a different decision would have been taken where the correct information had been available at the time when the application was under consideration;
- (c) the holder does not comply with the conditions of the permit; or
- (d) the permit is not used for a continuous period of one year.

(2) A permit issued under section 41 shall not be transferable.

[s. 43]

Restrictions on animal experiments

45.—(1) A person shall not carry out an animal experiment unless the way in which the experiment is to be conducted has been determined by a person whose qualifications satisfy the requirements prescribed in the regulations.

(2) An animal experiment shall not be carried out for -

- (a) a purpose which may be achieved by means other than an animal experiment, or by means of an experiment using fewer animals or entailing less distress than the experiment in questions;
- (b) a purpose of the importance of which does not justify the distress caused to the animal; or
- (c) purposes as may be prescribed by the Minister.

[s. 44]

Unlawful
experiments

46.—(1) A person shall not conduct an experiment on an animal-

- (a) which is not bred in a licensed breeding establishment;
- (b) in a laboratory not operated by a license holder; or
- (c) which is not obtained directly from another licensed establishment, in which animals are bred or used either exclusively or mainly for animal experiments or scientific research.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1) “breeding establishment” means any establishment where laboratory animals are bred with a view to their use in experiments.

[s. 45]

Obligation of permit holder

47.—(1) The holder of a permit shall ensure that, the animal suffers as little pain, injury, fear or distress as possible without defeating the objective of the experiment.

(2) The permit holder shall ensure that, where the animal on which the experiment is being carried out could experience pain, injury, fear or distress as a result of facts carried out without anaesthesia, a general or local anaesthetic is administered to the animal to prevent the distress.

(3) The provision of subsection (2) shall not apply in cases where the anaesthetic would defeat the object of the experiment.

(4) The permit holder shall ensure that, an animal which, if allowed to live, would suffer distress for a prolonged period as a result of an act performed as part of the experiment, is immediately put to death.

[s. 46]

Records on experiments

48.—(1) The permit holder shall keep detailed records concerning the procurement of animals for experiment as well as the experiment conducted as may be prescribed in regulations, and supply the record to the Director as may be required.

(2) The permit holder shall ensure that, the service of a veterinarian in supervising the welfare of the animal undergoing experiment is availed.

[s. 47]
